THE NATIONAL WAR COLLEGE
OFFICE OF THE COMMANDANT
WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

OCT 15 1963

Dear Mr. McCone:

Admiral Rose and I would like to extend to you our sincere appreciation on behalf of both of our institutions for helping us reach a better understanding of the contribution of the intelligence community to the formulation of national security policy. Your excellent talk and the ensuing discussions last Wednesday, 9 October, were stimulating and informative and will, I am sure, continue to provide a sound and authoritative basis for our later studies.

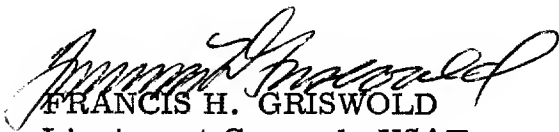

Knowing the heavy demands on your time, we are particularly grateful that you were able to remain for the informal discussion after the question period.

As a memento of your visit, I have inclosed a photograph taken upon your arrival at The National War College.

Admiral Rose joins me in extending to you our best wishes and kindest regards.

Sincerely yours,

1 Inclosure
as stated

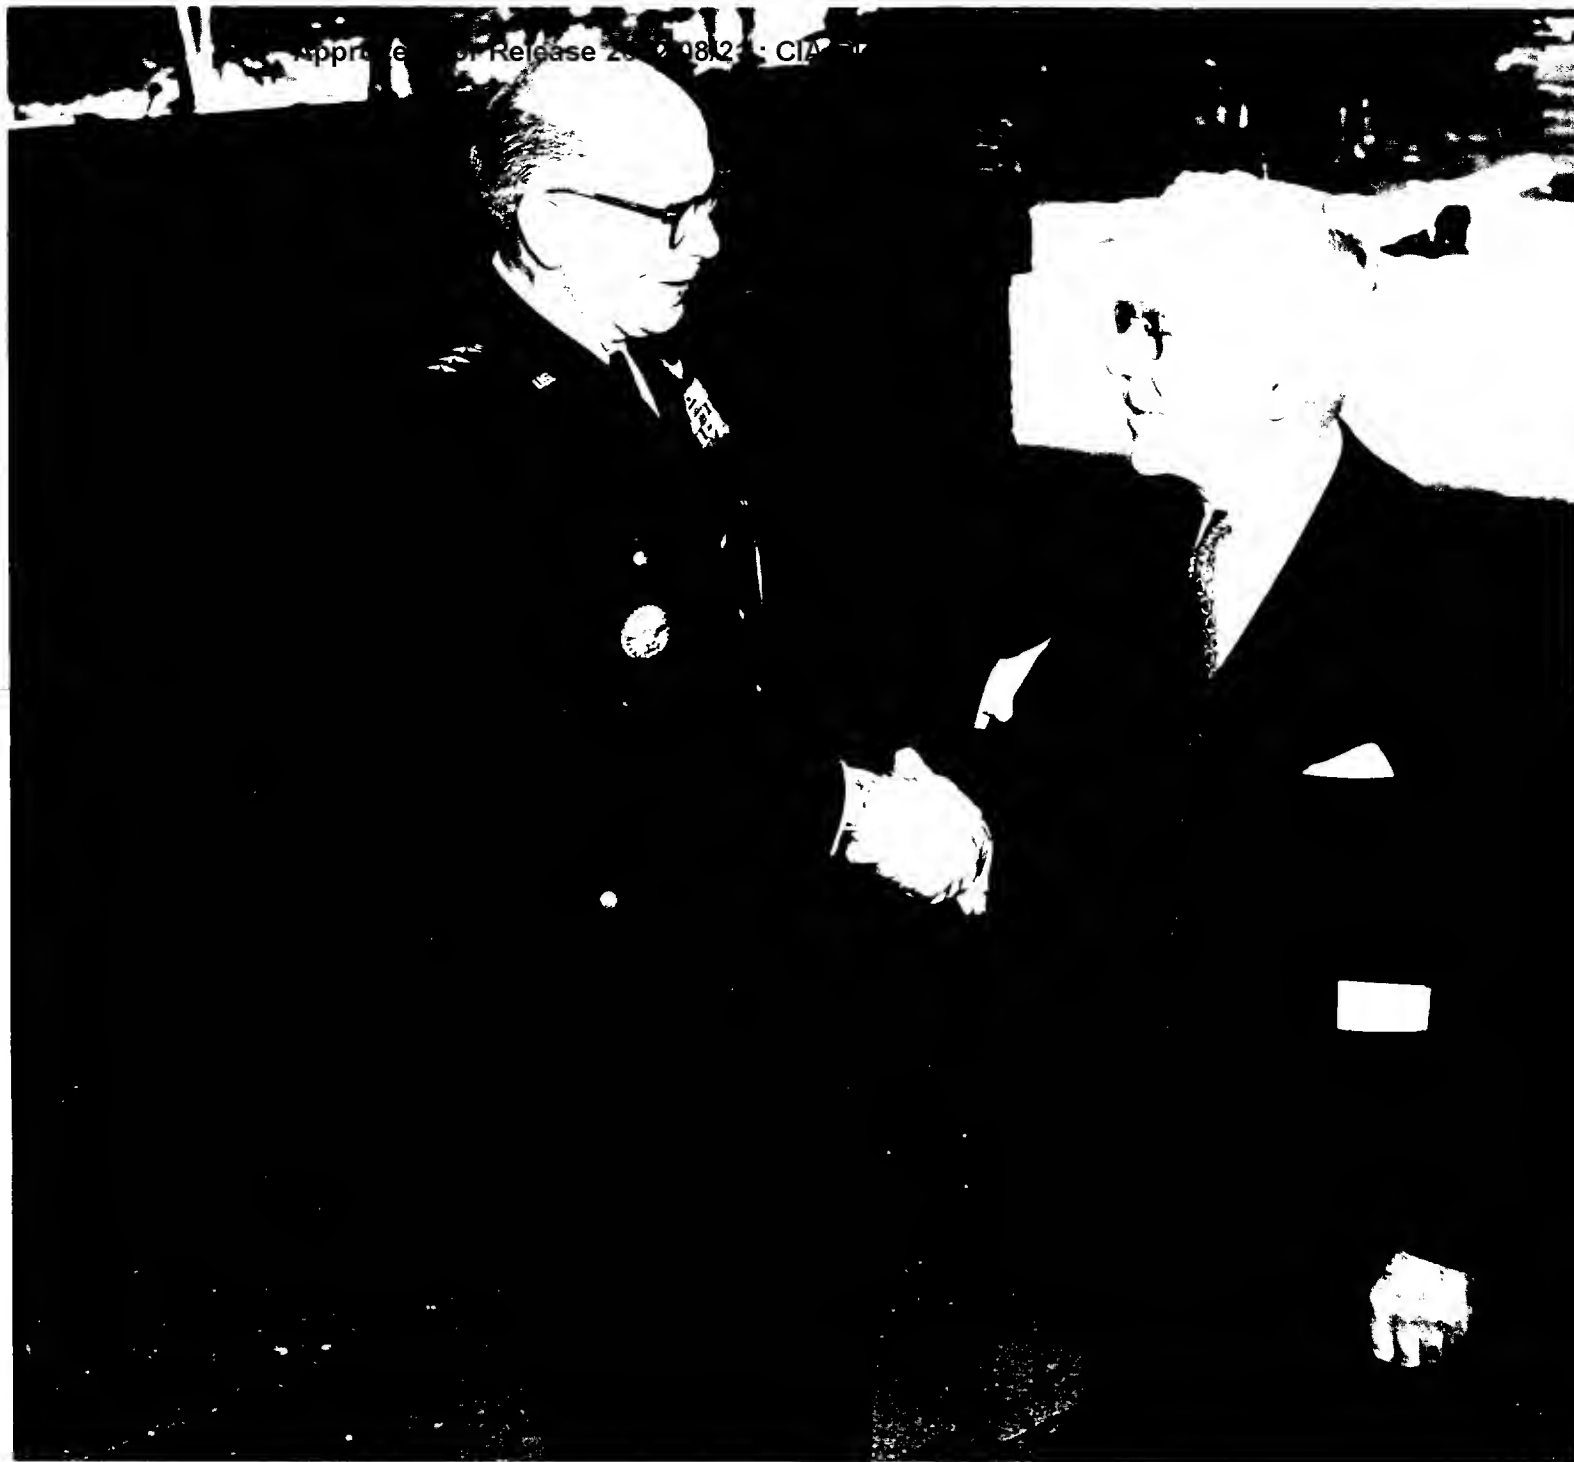

FRANCIS H. GRISWOLD
